

Michael Shikashio – Podcast Outline

1:42 - Ryan introduces Michael Shikashio.

3:39 – Michael discusses his introduction to positive reinforcement training and some of the first dogs he worked with using positive reinforcement.

10:40 - Michael discusses what he might tell his younger self if he knew then what he knows now.

13:30 – Michael shares about his process learning how to use empathy with others who may be using methods that are different than his.

1:18 - Michael talks about where people can find out more about him and what he's doing at <http://www.completecانines.com/>

21:26 – Michael discusses his work around safe and handling issues when working with aggression cases.

29:00 – Michael shares a couple take aways for people working with dogs who have been aggressive.

34:18 – Michael offers suggestions for dealing with clients we might label as difficult.

42:00 – Michael discusses strategies for working with people who's emotions may be elevated.

46:33 – Michael shares about his experiences observing street dogs.

57:43 – Michael shares some creative ideas for people to think about regarding dog aggression.

1:01 – Michael shares some information about the IAABC.

1:04 – Michael shares about the process for certification through the IAABC can find the information at www.iaabc.org

1:08 – Michael shares a story about a dog he has worked with and the impact the experience has had on him.

1:12 – Michael shares what he would like to see happen in the next five to ten years in the dog aggression community.

1:17 – Michael reminds everyone where he can be found <http://www.completecانines.com/>.

1:17 – Ryan thanks Michael for coming on the show.

1:18 – Ryan directs listeners to www.animaltrainingacademy.com to learn more about the Animal Training Academy including membership.